Polish glass spirits miniatures

from Johnsen & Jorgensen

Packaging container specialists Johnsen & Jorgensen (J & J) can now supply high quality Polish glass miniature spirits bottles in a wide range of shapes and sizes.

The Polish manufacturers have transferred the same high specifications to these products as they apply to their glass products for the cosmetics sector.

J & J Sales Director, Jxxxx Wxxxx, is familiar with the needs of spirits and liqueur bottlers whose demands have become increasingly sophisticated as the market has become more competitive:

“The quality of glass in cosmetics bottles has to be high quality partly because of the alcohol content of the ingredients, but also because quality glass adds value and enhances the look of the product,” he says.

“In many ways, the spirits and liqueurs sector has similar needs. I’m confident that our new Polish glass range provides attractive options for both bottlers and marketing people looking for distinctive and durable packaging.”
